

Hosannas to our Pilgrim Sires !
Bright memories round them twine ;
Our prayers invoke celestial lyres
Around their homes divine.
For "Auld Lang Syne" we sing,
For "Auld Lang Syne,"
We'll ever pray for Pilgrim Sires,
For "Auld Lang Syne."

ODE TO MILES STANDISH.

AIR — America.

Sung by the Audience.

All Hail, departed Chief!
The Nation to thee brings
An offering free ;
Not of mere bronze or stone,
Nor set on hill alone, —
Our memories long have flown
O'er land and sea.

Fond hopes in Britain left,
Of wealth and power bereft,
Still, spirit free,
You braved the ocean's roar,
You wooed a frozen shore,
That we might evermore
Wed liberty.

That seed of freedom sown,
Through frost and blood hath grown
A Nation free.

An empire, great in trust,
A people full of rest,
Millions thus happy, blest,
All honor thee.

HYMN. — OUR PILGRIM FATHERS.

AIR — Auld Lang Syne.

Sung by the Audience.

Awake ! the slumbering Hero comes !
Arise ! his spirit nears,
To marshal back to " Pilgrim Homes "
Our sires from other spheres.
For " Auld Lang Syne " they come,
For " Auld Lang Syne,"
And gather round those " Pilgrim Homes,"
Of " Auld Lang Syne."
